

Australian Book Launch

Join guests of Mt Eliza Executive Education and Melbourne Business School for the Australian launch of Gifts, Corruption, Philanthropy: The Ambiguity of Gift Practices in Business by Peter Verhezen, visiting Scholar at the University of Melbourne and Associate of Mt Eliza Executive Education.

Should we bother to ask the question whether some gifts and donations could be interpreted as bribes, or is the distinction always clear? Peter Verhezen attempts to answer why gifts are not just moral expressions but why gifts function as binding social practices in business and personal relations. Register now as numbers are strictly limited.

Date: Wednesday, November 18
Time: 6.00- 8.00pm
Location: Melbourne Business School
